Installation service and FLEXPRESS

Service innovations such as X-CODE and FLEXPRESS have set new standards in terms of reliable procurement of parts and rapid on-site repairs.

Hydraulic means HANSA-FLEX.

Today more than ever.

HANSA-FLEX has grown into Europe's leading hydraulic specialist. Its recipe for success is system partnership.

As a system partner, HANSA-FLEX expertly handles all the complex aspects of fluid technology, integrating all the relevant services - from planning and consulting, subsystems engineering, supply of hydraulic connecting elements and installation, through to commissioning and operating personnel training.

Partner in original equipment

OE manufacturers profit from the state-of-the-art know-how of the HANSA-FLEX Group right from the initial design phase.

Rapid supply of product samples and prototypes, with all necessary documentation, and fast production implementation, are benefits the customer can rely on. Ready-to-fit subassemblies can also be delivered just-in-time to the assembly line on request.

Parts service means no time is wasted

When parts are needed urgently, rapid, non-bureaucratic assistance is to hand. Whether hydraulic connecting elements, seals or components: with more than 70,000 articles, the HANSA-FLEX range offers everything needed. All products are manufactured to a safeguarded quality standard and are usually delivered on-site within 24 hours.
